

INTERNATIONAL COLLOQUIUM

BORDERS AND CULTURAL DIVERSITY IN THE XXI CENTURY: CHALLENGES FOR THE RECOGNITION IN THE GLOBAL STATE

June, 01/02/03 2011

The International Colloquium "Borders and cultural diversity in the XXI century: challenges for the recognition in the Global State", sponsored by the Program EICOS of Psychology of Communities and Social Ecology by UNESCO Chair on Sustainable Development / Program EICOS \ UFRJ and Post-Graduate Social Psychology Program from the State University of Rio de Janeiro (UERJ) aims to bring together Brazilian and international researchers around the theme of human displacements in contemporary era of globalization and the changing cultural and territorial they engender.

The convergence in such space of academic research production is important for the development of joint research, which central focus is the Global State - the cultural dimensions of globalization, migration and diasporic movements, collective and hybrids identities, gender issues and struggles for recognition, citizenship, participation and social justice within the project of sustainable development.

PROGRAMMING

	Opening
June, 01	Round Table 1: Borders, Cultural Citizenship in the XXI century
	Round Table 2: Hybridity Identity and Territory
	Round Table 3: Cultural Dimensions of Globalization
June, 02	Round Table 4 : Cultural Diversity Sustainability and Social Justice
	Round Table 5: Territories and Boundaries: the City Diversity
	Round Table 6: Diaspora, Displacement and Gender
June, 03	Business Meeting Colloquium Evaluation, strategies development, elaboration of results and definitions of publications
May, 30/31	Pre-event: Workshop and Audiovisual exhibition

ADDRESS: Campus da Praia Vermelha – UFRJ Auditório do CFCH Av. Pasteur 250

Promoting and supporting Institutions

